WORK EXPERIENCE

SAP Labs India (Software Engineer)

June 2016 – present

Responsible for developing the frontend of an IoT project, which provides vital stats for a fleet of vehicles at real-time.

With the help of advanced charting libraries and technologies like Angular JS, I have substantially improved the usability and efficiency of the platform. I also came up with some unique ideas to show space-time on a 2-d map, which is at the early stage of patenting.

Hirecraft Software (Sr. Web Developer)

May 2015 – June 2016

Responsible for handling the frontend of an E-commerce website, which caters home cooked food in New Delhi.

Developed the frontend and other functionalities such as cart management, payment API integration, back-end portal to track order and manage inventories for the Administrator with a full-fledged report of sales. I have also integrated Payment Gateways, Facebook Advert and Google Analytics.

Accrete Globus Technologies (Software Engineer)

June 2014 – May 2015

Responsible for developing an end-to-end Web application for a large Automobile-servicing company to manage multiple garages and keep the track of all the vehicles that had checked-in for servicing.

I was a full stack developer for this project and had created everything from functionalities such as Click-and-detect fault in cars, assigning tasks, and inventory management to account management.
